Alma Mater

A song, a song of gladness,
A song of praise and cheer,
We sing with hearts rejoicing
To our Alma Mater dear.
With hearts so true and loyal,
Our highest tributes bring;
To you we'll e'er be faithful,
To you we'll always sing.

Oh, may our Alma Mater ever,
In culture, pow'r, and might,
Move on in ev'ry feature,
Of the honor we know right.
And may the love that binds us
Protect what e'er we do,
While thoughts always noble
Inspire and keep us true.

Chorus:
Alma Mater, we love thee;
Our hearts are sincere and true.
Alma Mater, we love thee
With a love, a love that is ever new.
Your ideals that we cherish,
Inspire us to heights unknown,
Alma Mater, we love thee,
We go on and on and on.

Seniors In Caps And Gowns

Class History

We Seniors entered high school only four years ago. We have been so busy and interested in our work that it is hard to believe that four years have passed. We were proud to be in high school as freshmen. Our class officers were Josette Futch, Annette Boryk, Phyllis Sherman, Dewey Padgett, and Thelma Saunders. Everyone enjoyed going to Raleigh that year, as the high-light of 1956-1957.

After the summer vacation, we began our sophomore year. Our class officers were Stacy Covil, Judy Leimone, Ellen Caryl Futch, Bill Taylor, and Herman Strickland.

Our junior year was filled with many happy events. Mary Ruth Bowden represented our class on the basketball team. David McLendon, Stacy Covil, Dewey Padgett, Ervin Wells, Herman Strickland, Bill Taylor, Edward Mauney, and Richard Brown were on the boys' team. Herman Strickland was on the baseball team. Bill Taylor, Herman Strickland, David McLendon, David Williams, and Graham Carter were on the football team. Cheerleaders were Josette Futch, Judy Leimone, Phyllis Sherman, and Judy Giddens, Chief. "Hawaii" was the theme for the Junior-Senior banquet, and it was a great success. Ervin Wells, Dewey Padgett, Judy Leimone, Ellen Caryl Futch, and Martha Rowe were our officers.

Then we were Seniors, enjoying our last and most important year together. The Beta Club members from our class were Bobbye Taylor, Martha Rowe, Merle Meadows, Judy McKoy, Patricia Tatum, Thelma Saunders, Stacy Covil, Stuart Jones, Ellen Caryl Futch, Ervin Wells, Judy Leimone, and Phyllis Sherman. Charlotte Richardson reigned as Homecoming Queen with Judy Giddens, Judy Leimone, and Brenda Pearsall as her attendants. Receiving our class rings and the '60 Junior-Senior were important events for us. Senior class officers were Stacy Covil, Thelma Saunders, Judy Giddens, Bill Taylor, and Annette Boryk.

These four years have been short, but they are years which we shall remember and cherish all of our lives. We are grateful to you -- Burgaw High School -- for enabling us to have these happy years together.

Class Prophecy

TIME: 1970 PLACE: WAGRUB, ALASKA, U.S.A.

Wagrub, Alaska is usually a quiet town. Some old timers, such as David McLendon, can recall when there was only the old Humphrey village trading post here, where very few necessities could be purchased, let alone luxuries, as can now be found in the more modern Humphrey store.

It isn't so quiet in Wagrub today..it's a booming place, and like most boom towns, you'll find the bad merging their way in to corrupt the good. But thank goodness, the town has a wonderful hard working parson and sheriff who try to keep things going good. In the event they fail, there's Graham Carter, the mortician. He has only been in Wagrub about a year, after old Chinnis McCoy passed on. The rumor is that he died while Doc Taylor was treating him for "dig-iteous". One of the town characters, Freddy Gorsky, whom we find always cracking jokes, said old Mr. McCoy took his work too seriously and decided to put "his all" into his profession.

Over in Humphrey's store, we find Mrs. Jennings Humphrey (the former Charlotte Richardson) and her husband, getting ready for the rush. It was expected to be an exciting day and everyone wanted to be prepared for anything. However, they didn't expect to have this particular kind of excitement. Miss Jean Lanier and Miss Betty Lanier were right there helping them, too.

Sheriff Richard Brown rides up in his 1970 Mercury and begins posting signs of two women who were wanted for "Breach of Promise." Their photos looked familiar, and then we realized they were known back home in 1960 as loose affections until now when two gentlemen clad themselves with bravery and took their cases to the District Attorney Stacy Covil in Nome, a city about 175 miles north of Wagrub. D. A. Covil had circulated word to lawmen in nearby towns that these "gent-jilters", Judy Autry and Alice Groves, were wanted for breaking the hearts of John David Watkins and Ray Blanchard and Ervin Wells.

Excitement of our visit to town had died, and had all built up around two other visitors. These were none other than the two women wanted by the law. Sheriff Brown had been notified that these women had been seen going into the back door of Judy's Saloon. It was hard to believe that Miss Judy McCoy would harbor any outlaw. But it seems that "Miss Judy" was an old acquaintance of these two "wanted" women and possibly it was difficult for her to turn them in to the Sheriff.

Well, it was time for the parson to step in and do whatever he could. But, on second thought, Rev. Dewey Padgett didn't want to put himself on the spot by being in a saloon with these three women, so he took along his wife, the former Ellen Caryl Futch. The Rev. and Mrs. Padgett wrapped themselves in their cloak of duty-bound courage. They marched into Miss Judy's den of iniquity, with heads high, as if they were afraid to look down, lest they fall into this pit of ungodliness. And incidentally, they would have fallen, literally had not Bartender Worth Beverage warned them not to trip over an Eskimo, who was sprawled out on the floor, taking a nap. Rev. Padgett said he had never seen so much "Devil's Brew" in one place in his life unless it was the time he was conducting a meeting up in the hills of North Carolina, some years ago, when he met up with Peggy Batson and her employees Phyllis Sherman, Bobby Taylor and Patricia Tatum who were manufacturing some of that same kind of "snake-biting" remedy.

Class Prophecy

Well, Miss Judy, who always found herself to be honest when it came to talking with the parson, admitted that the two "wanted" women had been in her place, but had also left. And, with them, left most of the excitement. Of course, there were still lots going on around Wagrub.

Our next stop was at the Douglas Flynn farm. There we met the town's physician, Dr. Bill Taylor...a handsome young fellow, but a tired one. His nurses, Annette Boryk and Judy Leimone said he had been up all night with Farmer Flynn's cow. "Ole Bossy" was having troubles in this cold climate. It seemed that her milk kept freezing. At first, it was a novelty, and Mrs. Flynn, the former Merle Meadows, liked the idea because she was making some extra spending money selling the iced-milk-cicles. With the brilliance and patience of Doc. Taylor and the help of a heating pad from Raynor's and Walton's electrical appliance store, old Bossy seemed to be all right and back in working condition before we left the farm.

On our mission, we met all sorts of people, some serious and others just "Publicity Seekers." We couldn't quite make out Martha Rowe. Was she really serious when she had an idea for giving ole Bossy a formula which would cause her to give eight different flavors of milk, depending on which faucet was turned on? Edward Mauney is supposedly a bright young scientist who got his degree from Burgaw High School back in North Carolina, doing most of his research on the Thelma Saunders dairy farm east of Burgaw, N. C.

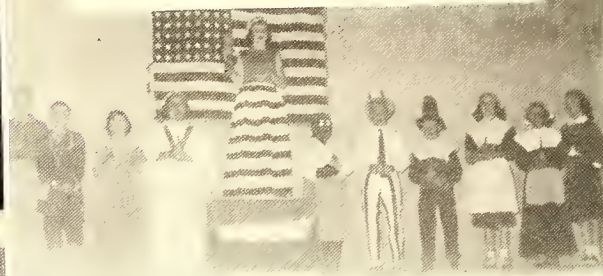

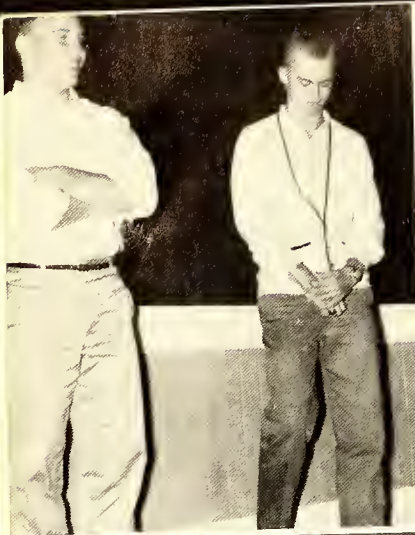

Main Street was swept and store windows were decorated with the latest fashions each hoping the "special" visitors would drop in and chat with them. But we did visit some nice shops; namely, Bowden's and Jonkheer's Furrier, Josette's Dress Shop, McLendon's Hardware. And then there was Stuart Jones who has always been said to be a money-maker. His place of business was very fascinating. He carried a line of suits, which he had marked at half price that day, but after all they only had a front to them (used for burial suits). In one corner was a florist shop; there was a large line of tombstones, and incidentally, he was a part-time preacher, so he could marry the young couples, and sell them flowers, pots and pans and about any household item they'd need. He could also preach the funeral, furnish them with caskets, flowers, suits, and tombstones, and he, in most cases, had furnished them with information as to where they'd go when he was through with them.

We made lots of stops and called on many people that day. It had been exciting for us and as we "cover" the town of Wagrub, we write this to be used in "Peek Magazine", with the hopes that it will bring lots of tourists to this wonderful, exciting Alaskan village which is growing so rapidly that if you don't hurry, you'll be unable to find it by the description we have given.

If you can't find a copy of this month's "Peek" on your news stand, then write our newspapers....Giddens Gazette or James Journal.

Signed: Judy Giddens and Sallie James.
